Pope & Land Enterprises, Inc. Signs on with Altius Solutions, LLC for Antenna Management Services

(ATLANTA) May, 2005—Altius Solutions, LLC (www.altiusolutions.com), an Atlanta based antenna and riser management company, announced today that Pope & Land Enterprises, LLC has signed on as a client. Altius will work with Pope & Land's office building portfolio to provide comprehensive antenna management services, including site marketing, construction oversight and ongoing management, including contract and safety compliance assurance.

Keith Martin, Vice President of Property Management, of Pope & Land, stated: "We are excited to work with Altius Solutions to develop and manage our antenna management program, enabling us to create new revenue streams from our assets, while ensuring aesthetics and safety are preserved. Altius has demonstrated itself as a leader in antenna management by managing numerous properties for many of the large commercial real estate players, while being involved with BOMA in proactive education role."

Kevin Link, CEO and Co-Founder of Altius Solutions, LLC said: "We look forward to working with Pope & Land in the placement and management of antennas on their properties. They have a great portfolio of beautiful, well located and superbly located properties, which are very attractive to wireless carriers. We are currently working with numerous carriers in their new technology build-outs. In the next couple of years, new services by emerging and existing carriers, such as WiMax, will create substantial revenue opportunities for buildings that are well positioned to provide space for these players.
